

Replace Destructive Marches With Constructive Aid

Major Hughes Alonzo Robinson, retired Army officer of Fort Valley, Ga., is a Southern Negro educator who is willing to speak out against the fallacies and excesses of the civil rights movement.

In a recent article, Major Robinson had this to say about one of the leaders of civil rights:

"If the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. were really interested in the conditions of the negroes in Birmingham, Ala., for example, he would have spent the $300,000 that he claimed he spent on the demonstrations there some time back building hotels, motels, restaurants and factories in which his people would have been given the jobs he seeks for them, and at the same time meet the need of public accommodations. As it now stands, no one has anything to show to the public for the $300,000. The publicity seekers such as Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. operate for personal glory, and wealth at the expense of their victims.

"Those who devote their time and energy in sponsoring activities that create disturbances in various parts of the country have ignored entirely the basic needs of the minority group with which they identify themselves. They have developed a technique for exploitation of the negroes unknown to past generations. They have not added one cent to the economic stability of the negro race.

"There were in the excess of 1,800 demonstrations in 1963, aside from those of 1964, and thousands of arrests of demonstrators for whom bail had to be provided and legal defense made available. Between $500,000 and $1 million was needed for the above purpose. With this sum of money, together with the matching funds from the Federal Government, the negroes could have built first-class hotels, motels and factories in several states of the United States employing hundreds of thousands of other negroes, and adding millions to the wealth of the negro race.

"As it now stands, the demonstrators and integration leaders have not added one cent to the negro or made available to him any employment by other negroes. On the contrary, the ill feeling engineered by the civil rights leaders deprived thousands of other negroes of jobs they would otherwise have had."

Beware of Wolves In Sheep's Clothing

By J. W. Jones

Negro Editor of Community Citizen

Communism is a secret conspiracy to take over the world. In Russia in 1928 it was decided by top communists to use the negro Civil Rights movement to bring America under communism. They decided no other issue would bring about as much hate, fighting and bloodshed as forced integration.

It is the communists alone who have created the vicious campaign of hate which is weakening and dividing American people. Without hate a communist is like a soldier without ammunition. Don't fall for this bait. The negro is being used by the communist to do his dirty work.

Don't let communists tell you they are for equality. Africans who went to college in Russia found out that, behind a mask of friendship, the communists have tricked leaders in Africa, Asia and the United States. Communism is a way of life which makes slaves of all—both negroes and whites. Negroes are segregated in Russia.

Learn about communism, and what it really is.

Nearly 20 million negroes in America own more automobiles than all the 150 million negroes in Africa, plus all of the 200 million Russians in Russia! America is the greatest nation on earth and offers more to the negro than any nation in the world. "Beware of Wolves in Sheep's Clothing."

PRO-COMMUNIST NEGROES SACRIFICING THEIR PEOPLE

Martin Luther King

Ralph Bunche

James Farmer

Martin Luther King

Karl Prussian, former counterspy for the F.B.I. had this to say regarding Martin Luther King in a sworn statement:

"I further swear and attest that at each and every one of the aforesaid (Communist) meetings one Martin Luther King was always set forth as the individual to whom Communists should look and rally around in the Communist struggle on the many racial issues."

Ralph Bunche

High official in the UN, has long record of pro-Communist writings and activity, given credit by communist high-command as being one of chief organizers of National Negro Congress, communist instrument to subvert American negroes.

James Farmer

National Director of CORE, a "non-violent" direct action group whose every action incites violence, also former Field Secretary for the Student League For Industrial Democracy. Farmer's "non-violent" attitude is expressed as follows in the publication "Revolt:"

"The League For Industrial Democracy is a militant Socialist educational movement which challenges those who would think and act for a new social order. This is a revolutionary slogan. It means that the members think and work for the elimination of Capitalism as we know it in America and substitute for it a new Socialist World Order."

Thank God For Our Blessings

In view of the growing race agitation, it is heartening to read the testimony of a negro who recognizes the great privilege he and his family enjoy as American citizens. It would be well for those of the white race who are so misguided in their thinking, and use the issue of "slavery" to bolster their erroneous position, to ponder testimony of this negro who is daily thankful to God that his ancestors were brought to this country, even as slaves. This letter was written by Zeke Crumpton of Hampton, Virginia, and originally published in the Christian Science Monitor.

"I am glad that my ancestors were negro slaves. The first shipload of slaves reached our shores in the year 1619 some 344 years ago. In the year 1828, Congress passed a law prohibiting the importation of slaves. So those members of my race whose ancestors reached America on the slave ships have been exposed to the civilization of the white man for 135 years.

"My race has made tremendous progress since they came to live in this country. I own my home, which is neatly furnished and is fitted with all modern electrical appliances. My three children graduated from college, have good jobs, and live in homes of their own.

"After years of steady employment and hard work as a section hand, I shall retire next year on a good pension from the railroad. I enjoy good health and have no grievances. My family has always had plenty to eat. For Sunday dinner we can afford such foods as: black-eyed peas, grits, cabbage, corn muffins and fried chicken.

NEGRO EDITOR SPEAKS OUT

A negro newspaper editor, George S. Schuyler, of the Pittsburgh Courier, has this to say about Martin Luther King's Nobel Peace Prize:

"... neither directly nor indirectly has Dr. King made any contribution to the world (or even domestic) peace. He thinks the Lenin Prize would have been more appropriate for him, since it is no mean feat for one so young to acquire 60-communist front citations, according to the U. S. government. Only W. E. B. Dubois and Paul Robeson surpassed that record—if we exclude Eleanor Roosevelt."

"Had my ancestors not been slaves, life for me would be different. I would be living in the jungles of tropical Africa, exposed to the diseases and insects found in that region. I would walk around in my bare feet with a metal ring in my nose, and around my waist I would wear a loin cloth—if I could afford one.

"At night I would try to sleep on a dirt floor of a one-room mud hut. Then on holidays we would feast on elephant stew, roasted grasshoppers, and the milk of a coconut.

"I get on my knees each night and thank God for permitting my ancestors to come to America as slaves. That was the great blessing to our race, and I am thankful for it. Since members of my race have traveled from the status of headhunters and cannibals to that of members of Congress in Washington, in less than 344 years' time, there should be no question about the abundance of opportunity for the negro in America."

"Let Us Really Liberate The Black Man"

By Ray Crabtree

3 East 65th St., New York, N. Y. 10021

This is solely the idea and action of philosophy, a nonpolitical-religious plan.

With your support, my will is to present to the world a program of constructive action. I will establish places of business, build factories, create jobs, build up the black neighborhoods and present schools of proper education, teaching works of the great masters of philosophy and music, ridding the blacks of their ignorance, elusions and exploitation, thus bringing light, peace and joy to the world. This program will cause the blacks to see, feel and strive towards something of their own; it will give them pride, self-respect and dignity, without integration, agitation, hate preaching, or the use of guns. Let's do something worth while right here in the USA and stop supporting all the crackpots that are about.

Ray Crabtree, to the best of his limited financial ability, has made great strides in helping the negroes of New York, arranges concerts and musicals, and strives to better the lot of his brothers through constructive action. He deserves the support of both blacks and whites.
